Contractor Ferguson's bids on Tenth sewer district work were so low that the city engineer's estimate was cut nearly in half. The city engineer is consequently engaged in preparing a new estimate schedule so that the clause in the contract which allows a half payment on the approximate cost will not so closely approach the entire bid.

THIS IS WHAT WAS SAID

Postmaster Vandling Interviews Proprietor Campbell, of the Times.

AGNOSTIC ON QUALIFICATIONS

Mr. Campbell Would Not Say That Either Mr. Vandling or Colonel Osthause Knew Anything About Business, for He Didn't Know—Says That the Postmaster Admits Employing a Known Pilferer.

The Times article, saying the combination of the post office safe was known to many persons and also charging Postmaster Vandling with knowingly keeping self confessed thieves in his employ, was the cause of a rather lively exchange of reports between the postmaster and D. J. Campbell, proprietor of the Times, yesterday morning.

Mr. Vandling, in company with Inspector Owing, called upon Mr. Campbell and asked that he make known the names of the persons who know the combination of the safe. Mr. Campbell said that information was in the keeping of the gentleman who wrote the article. The name of the writer was then asked for, but Mr. Campbell declined to give it. He was then asked to send the writer to see the inspector. He replied to this by saying that he would inform the gentleman that the inspector wished to see him.

Inspector Owing stated that if the Times people knew that there is a thief in the post office, he would like to know nearly every man in the post office know these combinations. It was their duty to make these matters known to the authorities. By refusing to do so they made themselves liable to the charge of shielding criminals.

WANTED CAMPBELL'S OPINION.

Mr. Vandling then asked Mr. Campbell if in his opinion he (Vandling) and Colonel Osthause could be so void of business principles and so derelict in duty as to use the vault as it came from the manufacturers without changing the combination. Mr. Campbell replied that he knew nothing whatever of the business qualifications of either of them. He didn't know that they even had any.

"Do you not know," said Mr. Vandling, "that Colonel Osthause was for many years financial manager of the Thirteenth regiment?"

"No," answered Mr. Campbell, "I never knew of that. I have heard that he had charge of the renting of the armory. I have the greatest respect for Colonel Osthause and can vouch for his being an honorable man, but I do not know that he has any business qualifications."

"You may have peculiar ideas of business qualifications," said Mr. Vandling.

"Well," said Mr. Campbell, "if you did not have respect for my opinion on that question, you should not have asked it."

Vandling stated last night, in the course of the interview, that it was evident that Mr. Campbell tried to conceal to make it appear he had no knowledge of the matter.

Osthause was incompetent, Vandling expressed himself as very satisfied with the effect the interview had on the inspector.

SAYS HE OBTAINED AN ADMISSION.

When Mr. Campbell was spoken to in reference to the meeting he verified the account given above and added that he had compelled the postmaster to admit that the position the Times had taken was correct.

"When we had discussed the questions of business qualifications," said Mr. Campbell, "the question of the self-confessed thief was brought up. To set the Times right I put the question direct to the postmaster. 'Was there not a package stolen from your office since you took charge; did you not discover the thief and is he not now in the post office under your employ?' Mr. Vandling admitted that an employe had been detected in a theft, but it was only a matter of twenty-five cents and he was not prosecuted."

The Times is right in that statement. Mr. Campbell further stated that he had no desire to lower the present postmaster in the eyes of the department, but he only wished to prove that the Times was right in what it said.

A reporter of the Times was sent by Mr. Campbell to interview Mr. Owing yesterday afternoon, but Mr. Campbell declined to say whether or not he was the one that penned the article in question.

Mr. Campbell stated that he does not propose to divulge the source of any information he is possessed of, and that if the postoffice department cares to have him arrested it can do so. He will be fortified for such a contingency.

THE CHIEF IS HERE.

Superintendent of Post Office Inspectors Arrives in This City.

General Edgerton, chief postoffice inspector of the division comprising Pennsylvania, New Jersey and part of Maryland, arrived in this city last evening and was in consultation with Inspector Owing until a late hour last night. He is the oldest man in the service, being upwards of 60 years of age, and is reputed to be one of the very best detectives in the government service.

That no small amount of importance is attached to the postoffice robbery is evidenced by the presence of the chief inspector. It is but rarely that he leaves his headquarters in Philadelphia and when he does it is always on business of the greatest importance.

UP WITH A BALLOON.

Charles Gabriel's Great Exhibition at Laurel Hill Park.

Upwards of 3,500 persons saw the balloon ascension at Laurel Hill park yesterday afternoon and evening.

On account of an accident sustained by Miss Lulu Randall at Cincinnati on Monday, by which her foot was injured, she was unable to make the ascension, and Charles H. Gabriel went up both afternoon and evening.

In the afternoon he ascended a distance of 8,000 feet and in the evening attained a height of 1,500. He made his descents with the assistance of parachutes, both times landing near the Catholic church at Dunmore.

GREATEST EVENT OF THE SEASON.

ENDEAVORERS' RALLY

Three Thousand Persons Were in Attendance.

FIVE COUNTIES AT FARVIEW

Unions from Lackawanna, Wayne, Luzerne, Susquehanna and Wyoming Counties Sent Delegations—The View Was Obstructed, but Nothing Hindered the Enjoyment of the Throng—Music, Addresses and Exercises Made During the Day.

The rally and reunion of Christian Endeavor societies from the five counties at Farview yesterday was a success in point of numbers, enjoyment and religious zeal.

Early in the day a light mist hung over the valleys and clinging tenaciously to the hillsides, and during nearly the whole of the day the sun was partially obscured. The signs seemed favorable for a dewy, which, however, failed to dampen the spirits of about 3,000 Endeavorers from Lackawanna, Luzerne, Wayne, Susquehanna and Wyoming counties, who made the trip to Farview and participated in the exercises. Most of the throng was composed of young people whose enjoyment of the outing and meeting was unqualified.

WHERE ARE WE AT?

Manager Swift Discharged and Mr. Cahill Employed, but Action is Said to Be Illegal.

There is every reason to believe that the base ball muddle only became more muddled last night and today finds the association in worse shape than it has been since the beginning of the dispute over the question of manager. Nobody now knows where they are at.

When the meeting of the directors was adjourned on Tuesday night amid excitement that prevented any action being taken on the matter of employing a manager, it was decided to meet last night.

At the hour for the meeting President St. John and Secretary Betts were the only members of the board of directors in the room. Mr. Betts held the proxies of William Roth, Arthur Martin and Mr. Betts.

Mr. St. John refused to call the meeting to order, holding that Mr. Betts and himself did not constitute a quorum.

As left the room and Mr. Betts, who represented with the proxies he held a majority of the members of the board of directors, went into executive session, dispensed with the services of Manager Swift and named Mr. Cahill his successor. Letters were then written by Secretary Betts to both gentlemen advising them of the action of the board of directors.

President St. John laughed when he learned what had been done and had no hesitation in declaring that the action of Mr. Betts was illegal and amounted to nothing. He said that there had been no meeting and therefore no business could be transacted.

"If the directors of this association do not want Martin Swift for manager let them step up manfully and say so by their votes," was his declaration. "I object to allowing them to stab him in the back by means of a proxy, and that's the reason why I refused to call a meeting to order. Personally I am in favor of Swift for he is a good man, and has proved his value to the association, but am willing to drop him, however, for the sake of harmony and the interests of the game in this city. I now stand ready to choose some other man besides Cahill or Swift."

Stockholder Jordan, who was with Mr. St. John at the time, gave it as his opinion that several members of the club will refuse to play today under Cahill. They said they would not and he believes they will stick to what they say.

Manager Swift will have a consultation with J. W. Alton today with regard to placing a club at Carbondale. If he agrees to assume control of it there are many who believe that not a few members of the Scranton club would be willing to follow him there if he asked them to do so. Those who know Mr. Swift best say that he would not do anything of the kind.

The members of the association who favored the employment of Mr. Cahill as manager say they have the kindest feelings for the members of the Scranton club and want them to remain in this city. If they make trouble, or in any other way make trouble, they will be handled without gloves, it is stated.

Pitsher Campbell, late of Wilkes-Barre, will join the Scranton club today. It is probably that Richard Phelan has been seen for the last time in Scranton uniform. He was a quiet, gentlemanly player, who knew all the points in the game and could at times show the best of the young blood how to play the national game.

NO QUITTER IS HE.

Dr. Haggerty Will Try to Have Conway's License Revoked—Hearing to Take Place Today.

The men whom Dr. Haggerty accuses of assaulting him were not arrested yesterday, although they were expected to call from a constable at any moment. Some people who don't know the combative doctor very well believed that he had concluded to let the cases drop rather than court the further notoriety that they will inevitably bring. How far they were wrong in their surmises is to be judged from the fact that the doctor has not only not let the cases drop, but has begun other litigation as well.

Yesterday afternoon he stated to a TRIBUNE reporter that he would have his assailants arraigned before Alderman Fuller at 9 o'clock this morning and that he had instructed his attorney, E. C. Newcomb, to petition court to grant a rule to compel P. J. Conway to show cause why his license shall not be revoked.

The doctor says he can prove that the Conway house is open on Sundays and that liquor has been sold there on the Sabbath.

EDITH HAD TO WITHDRAW. She Could Not Stand Her Frederick's Ill Treatment.

Mrs. Edith Carpenter of the West Side, yesterday began an action to secure a divorce from her husband Frederick.

Later in the day the warrant for his arrest was placed in the hands of Officer Coleman. He was found on the flats and quietly accompanied the officer to the station house. On the way thither he told the officer that he would not let Weiss arrest him.

The Hungarian was arrested in the first place for obtaining money under false pretenses, but now he will have the additional charge of assault and battery upon an officer to answer.

FIVE MORE CARRIERS.

Postoffice Department Allows Increase of Force of This City—Names of New Men.

The post office department at Washington has notified Postmaster Vandling that after Sept. 1 five additional mail carriers will be allowed for this city.

This was pleasant news for the postmaster, as he has been anxious since he went into office to redistrict the city and give more frequent deliveries to certain sections of the city, but his limited force of carriers would not allow him to do so.

At present Mr. Vandling has a force of twenty-seven carriers and the five new men will give him a force of thirty-two. Those who will receive the appointment are the present substitute carriers in the order of seniority. Their names are Elmer Adick, George Jones, (colored), W. C. Cannon, John Maloney and Richard Grimes. That will leave only one substitute, George R. Gehrer, on the force. Additional substitutes will be appointed as soon as the result of the recent civil service examination is made known.

After the first of September there will be three deliveries daily on Sanders' Hill, four in Providence and three in the business section of Green Ridge. Hyde Park has had three deliveries for some time past. One of the new carriers will be put on the South Side and two more in the central city. It is the intention to create a new route to include Washington avenue from Lackawanna to Vin Street with the intersecting streets from Washington to Adams avenue.

Excursion to Farview. A delightful trip to Farview on Saturday, Aug. 11. It will be one of the best outings of the season. There will be a base ball game, shooting gallery, and plenty of other attractions to make the day a pleasant one.

Scranton No. 60, Uniformed Bank Knights of Pythias is going on that date. The fare for the round trip is only 30 cents for adults, and 20 cents for children. This is the lowest rate offered this season, so do not miss it. Germania band and orchestra will furnish the music. The train will leave the Delaware and Hudson depot on Lackawanna avenue at 8:30 a. m.

The Electrical workers will hold their first annual picnic at Laurel Hill Park next Saturday, Aug. 11. Admission 10 cents. There will be all kinds of refreshments on the grounds, and games of all kinds will be had.

DEED. PASSED.—At Greenwood, Tuesday, Aug. 8, Edward Fassold, son of the late Edward Fassold, proprietor of the Greenwood hotel, aged 16 years and 7 months, died. Funeral Friday at 2 p. m., from the residence. Interment at Pittston Avenue cemetery.

LOFTUS—John Loftus, aged 55 years, at his residence on Parker street, Dunmore, Wednesday evening. Funeral Saturday morning from St. Mary's Catholic church, Dunmore.

BLACK AND WHITE REVOLVERS ARRESTED BY OFFICERS. Four colored men, one of whom had a white wife, and two white women were hauled up before Alderman Pittston and heavily fined for creating a disturbance Tuesday night.

This crowd occupied the quarters over Babcock's feed store on Franklin avenue and frequently annoyed the neighbors by their carousals. Complaints were entered and the house was raided by Constable DeLong and Special Officer Tierney, who succeeded in landing the entire crew before the bar of justice.

The white women were not a bit abashed by the revelation of their consorting with colored men, but went away after their fines had been paid, arm in arm with their male companions. The police will keep an eye on this little colony, and in case of further disturbance, they will be severely dealt with.

OBJECTED TO WEISS. Hungarian Would Not Allow That Constable to Arrest Him.

A strapping young Hungarian who drives a wagon connected with the car shops created considerable excitement yesterday morning by wiping up the plank pavement near the car shops with the person of Constable Weiss and a policeman, who was to present the charge upon which the Hungarian was wanted.

Weiss ordered the Hungarian to get down from his wagon and when he refused, the constable, with the assistance of the prosecutor, attempted to pull him off the seat. When the Hungarian did come down, he came down heavily and landed upon the constable and prosecutor. After thoroughly whipping both of them he resumed his place on the wagon and drove off as if nothing had happened.

Later in the day the warrant for his arrest was placed in the hands of Officer Coleman. He was found on the flats and quietly accompanied the officer to the station house. On the way thither he told the officer that he would not let Weiss arrest him.
